BUDGET ESTIMATES FOR 1962-63—

GENERAL DISCUSSION

(Debate continued)

Sri G. VENKATAI GOWDA (Palayam).—Sir, the Budget Estimates for the year 1962-63 indicate a deep crisis so far as the finances of the State are concerned. This is a budget which is neither imaginative nor inspiring. This is a budget which is not expected of a developing economy. The deficit for the year 1962-63 has been shown as Rs. 3,22,00,000 and according to the revised figures for 1961-62 it would come to Rs. 4,11,00,000. Altogether, the deficit would come to more than Rs. 7 crores. This is the revenue deficit. On the capital side also there is a deficit of nearly Rs. 6,88,00,000. The deficit on the capital side is sought to be met by the Ways and Means Advances temporarily. In fact, I wanted to know what is meant by the Ways and Means Advances. It means that Government is borrowing for temporary use and then adjusts it later on. This is the first time I have come to know in the history of Mysore Finances that such a step is being resorted to. For the last five years I have not seen such a measure having been adopted by the Government. I have read that the West Bengal Government has adopted this method and the Second Finance Commission condemned it and said that that was not the right procedure to be adopted. When I perused the budget speech of the Hon'ble Finance Minister,
